Background and Methodology

Patrick E. Gonzales graduated magna cum laude from the University of Baltimore with a degree in political science.

His career in the field of public opinion research began in the mid-1980s as an analyst with Mason-Dixon Opinion Research. During this time, Mr. Gonzales helped develop, craft and implement election surveys and exit polls for television and radio in the Baltimore-Washington D.C. metro area.

Patrick Gonzales has polled and analyzed well over a thousand elections in Maryland and across the country since that time. Furthermore, Mr. Gonzales and his associates have conducted numerous market research projects, crafting message development plans and generating strategy blueprints for businesses and organizations throughout the state.

Over his 35 years conducting public opinion polls, Patrick Gonzales has been widely recognized by his peers for his ability to conduct unbiased surveys, and analyze the results in an impartial, evenhanded manner.

Mr. Gonzales frequently appears on radio and television throughout the Baltimore-D.C. region as a guest commentator.

This poll was conducted by Gonzales Research & Media Services from December 28th, 2018 through January 4th, 2019. A total of 809 registered voters in Maryland, who indicated that they vote regularly in general elections, were queried by live telephone interviews, utilizing both landline and cell phone numbers. A cross-section of interviews was conducted throughout the state, reflecting general election voting patterns.

The margin of error (MOE), per accepted statistical standards, is a range of plus or minus 3.5 percentage points. If the entire population was surveyed, there is a 95% probability that the true numbers would fall within this range.

Synopsis

“It was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness...” To heck with the French Revolution, Dickens could’ve written a Reader’s Digest Life in These United States, circa 2019! This, however, is the tale of two politicians, with President Donald Trump playing the part of Paris and Governor Larry Hogan as London.

Among Maryland voters, a mere 34% approve of the job Trump is doing as president, while a rather-close-to-two-thirds 63% disapprove of the job Trump is doing...58% strongly disapprove. Eighty-three percent of Democrats; 82% of black voters; 68% in the Metro Washington Region; 65% of those under the age of fifty-five; and 63% of women strongly disapprove of the job Donald Trump is doing as president.

What are we to do?

Well, since they haven’t (as far as I know) built a guillotine in a while, 50% of Maryland voters say that they approve of Democrats in the United States House of Representatives initiating impeachment proceedings against Trump, in an attempt to remove him from office. Fifty-eight percent of blacks; 58% of Democrats; and 52% of voters under the age of thirty-five strongly approve of Democrats in the House beginning the impeachment process.

We’ve invested well over $20 million in the Robert Mueller Russian collusion investigation, and while he and his team have done a splendid job of demonstrating Stalin’s “show me the man, and I’ll show you the crime” dictum, perhaps we should wait for Mueller’s final report on collusion before trying to remove Trump from office.

On the other hand, Larry Hogan, I suspect, is having a delightful time at the mansion straddling Church and State Circles, preparing for his fifth Legislative Session as governor of Maryland. Statewide, 77% of voters approve of the job Hogan is doing (48% “strongly approve”), while only 18% disapprove. Seventy percent of Democrats, 86% of Republicans, and 88% of independents approve of the job he is doing as governor.

It doesn’t get any better than this for Hogan...of course, we’ve been saying that for three years now.

Linked to Hogan's high approval, 67% of voters think that things in Maryland are moving in the right direction, while only 20% say that things in the state are on the wrong track. Eighty-nine percent of voters who "strongly approve" of the job Hogan is doing think things in the state are moving in the right direction, while 59% who "strongly disapprove" think things in the state are on the wrong track.

Against the spread, bad beat, backdoor cover...wanna take some sweet action we'll be placing a wager on the Ravens and Redskins soon? Statewide, 49% of Maryland voters favor making sports betting legal in Maryland (22% "strongly favor" and 27% "somewhat favor"), while 36% oppose sports betting in the state (22% "strongly oppose" and 14% "somewhat oppose").

Gender and age are the two demographics steering the dispute at present. Fifty-seven percent of men favor sports betting, while 45% of women oppose it; 62% of voters under the age of forty-five favor sports betting, while 48% of voters fifty-five and older oppose making sports betting legal in the state of Maryland.

Attitude toward gambling, notwithstanding, a sweeping majority of Maryland voters want the issue of sports betting decided by voters. Statewide, 83% say the issue of sports betting should be put to referendum to let Maryland voters decide, while only 12% think that lawmakers should decide whether or not to make sports wagering legal.

Eighty-one percent who favor the legalization of sports betting in the state want the issue put to referendum, and 90% of voters who oppose sports betting want voters to decide the issue at referendum.

Now that marijuana is legal in Maryland for medicinal purposes, rollin' a blunt just to get mellow is next on the agenda. Among state voters, 58% favor making the sale of marijuana legal for recreational purposes (41% "strongly favor" and 17% "somewhat favor"), while 38% oppose legalizing recreational marijuana (28% "strongly oppose").

Even more so than gambling, age is the driving force on weed...69% of voters under the age of fifty-five favor recreational marijuana, while 48% of voters 55 and older oppose it.

As we find ourselves in the swirling maze of instant information, we asked

Maryland voters their opinion on changing the law to allow for news cameras in criminal court during the sentencing phase of a trial to make our judicial system more transparent.

Statewide, 59% favor news cameras in court during the sentencing phase of a trial (35% “strongly favor” and 24% “somewhat favor”), while 30% oppose news cameras in court (19% “strongly oppose” and 11% “somewhat oppose”), with 11% giving no response.

Among voters under the age of forty-five, 68% favor cameras in the courtroom, while among those sixty-five and older, 42% oppose cameras in criminal court.

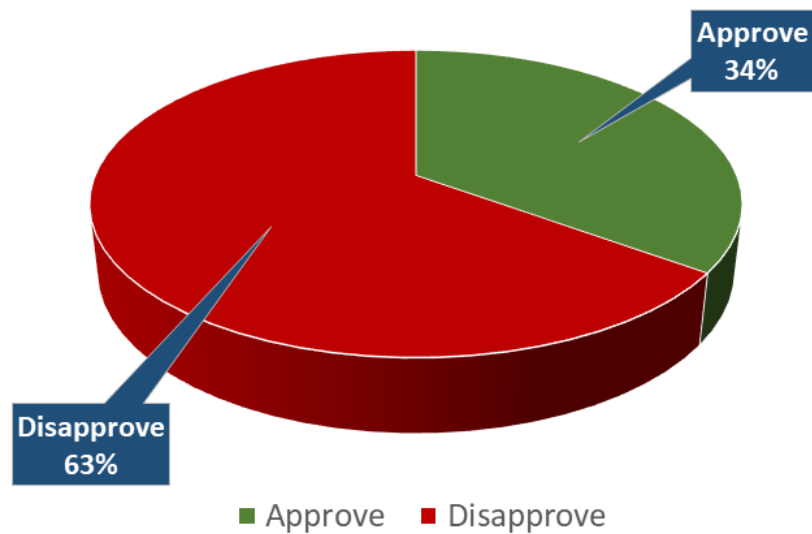

Gonzales January 2019 Poll Results

President Donald Trump

Job Approval

Among Maryland voters, only 34% approve of the job Donald Trump is doing as president (29% “strongly approve” and 5% “somewhat approve”), while 63% disapprove of the job Trump is doing (58% “strongly disapprove” and 5% “somewhat disapprove”), with 3% offering no judgment.

Impeachment

We asked Maryland voters, now that that the Democrats have gained power in the U.S. House of Representatives, if they approve or disapprove of the House beginning the impeachment process against President Trump, in an attempt to remove him from office.

Statewide, 50% approve of Democrats in the House beginning the impeachment process against Trump (39% “strongly approve” and 11% “somewhat approve”), while 44% disapprove of House Democrats attempting to impeach the president (38% “strongly disapprove” and 4% “somewhat disapprove”), with 6% providing no answer to the question.

73% of black voters in the Free State endorse the U.S. House of Representatives beginning the impeachment process against President Trump, in an attempt to remove him from office

In Maryland, 76% of Democrats; 73% of blacks; 65% of voters under the age of forty-five; 61% in the D.C. metro region; and 56% of women approve of the House of Representatives beginning the impeachment process, in an effort to remove President Donald Trump from the White House 2 years into his term of office.

Governor Larry Hogan

At the other end of the spectrum, 77% of Maryland voters approve of the job Governor Larry Hogan is doing (48% “strongly approve” and 29% “somewhat approve”), while 18% disapprove (5% “strongly disapprove” and 13% “somewhat disapprove”), with 5% giving no response.

Approval of Hogan falls under 70% nowhere

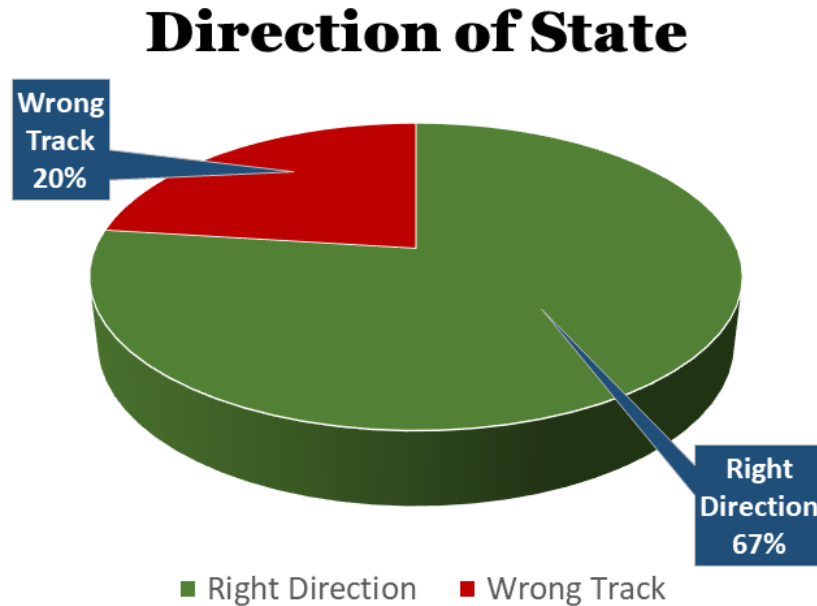

Larry Hogan won a resounding, unambiguous victory two months ago, becoming the first Republican in 64 years to be reelected governor of Maryland. He garnered over 1.2 million votes on November 6th, 2018...a member of the GOP getting more votes for governor than any Democrat in Maryland ever has. His particularly impressive standing with state voters continues as he heads into his fifth legislative session as Maryland’s executive.

Governor Hogan Job Approval by Region

Direction of the State

Among state voters, 67% think that things in Maryland are moving in the right direction, while 20% say things are off on the wrong track, with 13% offering no answer.

Eighty-nine percent of voters who “strongly approve” of the job Hogan is doing think things in the state are moving in the right direction, while 59% who “strongly disapprove” of the job he’s doing think things in the state are on the wrong track.

Sports Betting

Forty-nine percent of Maryland voters favor making sports betting legal in Maryland (22% “strongly favor” and 27% “somewhat favor”), while 36% oppose sports betting (22% “strongly oppose” and 14% “somewhat oppose”), and 15% offer no opinion on sports betting.

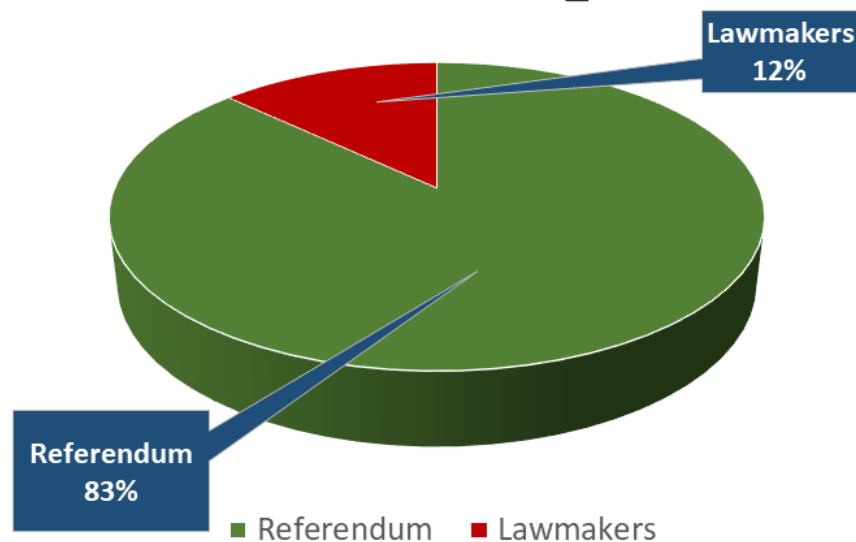

Currently, gender and age are the two compelling demographics on legalizing sports betting in the state...57% of men favor having sports betting legalized in the state, while 45% of women oppose it; 57% of voters under the age of fifty-five favor sports betting being legalized in the state, while 48% of voters 55 and older oppose sports betting.

Referendum

Regardless of one’s position on sports gambling in Maryland, nearly everyone wants the issue decided by voters, not lawmakers in Annapolis. Statewide, 83% say the issue of sports betting should be put to referendum to let Maryland voters decide, while only 12% think that lawmakers should decide whether or not to make sports betting legal.

Eighty-one percent of voters who favor the legalization of sports betting in the state want the issue put to referendum, and 90% of voters who oppose sports betting want voters to decide the issue at referendum.

Who Should Decide Sports Betting

Recreational Marijuana

Support in Maryland for legalizing recreational marijuana is high...(get it?)

Statewide, 58% favor making the sale of marijuana legal for recreational purposes (41% “strongly favor” and 17% “somewhat favor”), while 38% oppose legalizing recreational marijuana (28% “strongly oppose” and 10% “somewhat oppose”), with 4% providing no opinion.

Even more so than gambling, age is the driving force on weed...69% of voters under the age of fifty-five favor recreational marijuana, while 48% of voters 55 and older oppose it.

News Cameras in Court

As the country and culture hurtle inexorably forward in the information age, we wanted to gauge Maryland voter opinion on allowing news cameras in criminal court during the sentencing phase to make our judicial system more transparent.

Statewide, 59% favor news cameras in court during the sentencing phase of a trial (35% “strongly favor” and 24% “somewhat favor”), while 30% oppose news cameras in court (19% “strongly oppose” and 11% “somewhat oppose”), and 11% give no response.
